The Purpose of the Citizenship School

The Citizenship Schools are for adults. Their immediate program is literacy. They enable students to pass literacy tests for voting. But there is involved in the mechanics of learning to read and write an all-round education in community development which includes housing, recreation, health, and improved home life. Specific subjects are emphasized such as safe driving, social security, cooperatives, the income tax, and an understanding of tax-supported resources such as water testing for wells and aid for handicapped children.

The Citizenship Schools provide a service to the people which is not available through any other private or public program at the present time.

They are open to all people of a community who face problems related to first-class citizenship and want to do something about them.
On January 10, 1957, more than 100 Southern leaders gathered in Atlanta, Georgia, to share and discuss problems of the Southern struggle. This group voted to form a permanent organization that would serve as an agency for groups using the technique and philosophy of non-violence in creative protest. In March 1957 in New Orleans, Louisiana, the Southern Christian Leadership Conference came into being. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., was elected president.

The Southern Christian Leadership Conference is made up of organizations all across the South. The formation of its basic policy is the responsibility of an Executive Board. The Board has representatives from the entire South.

A large number of ministers have come to the front as leaders in the organization because the Negro ministers in the South have been the community leaders and champions of the Negro's civil liberties.

The Southern Christian Leadership Conference believes in Christian non-violence. Its activities revolve around two points: the use of non-violent philosophy as a means of creative protest, and securing the right of the ballot for every citizen. It has for its aim the achievement of full citizenship rights, equality, and the integration of the Negro in all aspects of American life.
Our United States of America is the Home of a great American nation. We are a part of that great nation. All people who live in North America and in South America are Americans. We are Americans, too.

We love this great land. It has given us our living for many years. It holds opportunities for our children and grandchildren.

Day by day we silently pour the concrete of love into the furious, violent ocean of hate. Some day that concrete will build a foundation that will support a bridge to span the channel and open lines of communication to all peoples.

Our hearts are filled with the spirit of brotherhood, and our hands move forward, defying all acts of violence.

The Supreme Court building, where the Justices decide legal disagreements, is the symbol of law. The Capitol, where our Senators and Representatives make the laws, is the symbol of free, representative government. The White House, where the President lives and his Cabinet meets, is the symbol of our country in world affairs. We accept the results of elections and abide by the rulings of the courts.

We in America know that voting is important for good citizenship, but we know that educating our children so they will vote wisely is a part of citizenship, too. They have to know how to stand up for their rights.

In America we want law and justice.

We love our land—America!

register ... sit-in ... it ... Etta station ... is ... at ... Rita strain ... tag ... strange ... tar rotten ... get ... ten ... ton treat ... stranger ... grate ... great

Use some of these words to make a story. (Sample Story)

Etta and Rita met ten students at the train station. For ten minutes the rain came down in torrents. It made great holes in the roads. It splashed off the tar roofs and flowed into drains on the side of the curb. It looked as if a ton of rotten leaves were being carried into strange openings made by the water.

Suddenly the rain stopped, the sun came out and we went with the students to register. It was such a treat to look into the eyes of each stranger and see the satisfaction each had as the testing period ended. The great strain was over. Now each can wear a tag which reads "I have registered, have you?"

(Sample)
Leona sent her son to the store to buy some salt. On his way he heard that a United States Senator was in town and would speak at ten o'clock on the capitol steps. He ran to the capitol building and mounted the stair steps and took a seat. He saw the Senator and heard him speak about "Soil Preservation." Suddenly he remembered where he had been sent and quietly stole away from the crowd.
Your social security card is the key to your social security account. It is important to you.

Your card shows you have an insurance account with the United States Government.

Your account is a record of the pay you receive which counts toward old age and survivors insurance benefits. The size of benefits will depend upon the amount of wages credited to your account.

When an insured worker dies, a lump sum payment may be made to the widow or widower or to the person who paid the funeral expenses.

Any social security district office will help you to check your social security account, to explain your rights and duties and the insurance benefits you and your family may receive, and to help you or your survivors to file claim for benefits when the time comes.

Social security is family protection.

Good Manners

When other people are talking, I listen. Harry likes me to listen when he talks. Sue likes me to listen when she talks. One has good manners if he listens when others talk. When I talk I want other people to hear me.

I talk about things my friends know something about. I talk so that everyone can hear. I do not talk all the time. It is not polite to do all the talking. Everyone likes to talk some.

My friends like to tell me about their jobs. They like to tell me about their new cars. I like to tell them about my job and my car.

Sue likes to talk about her flower garden. Sue tells her friends about her new dress and hat.

When your friend is talking, do not interrupt. It is not polite to interrupt. Everyone likes people to listen when he talks.
