Can I come use your zines?

Short version: Yes, of course!

Long version: The Rubenstein Library is open to the public– all you need is a photo ID!

Many of our zines collections are stored in another location. Please let us know you are coming (at least a few days in advance) so we’ll make sure there are plenty of zines here for you. (and so we can roll out the red carpet!)

Are you an instructor or a student at Duke? You can use zines in the classroom or as a basis for your research & writing assignments– ask us how!

What's in a zine?

Zine: /zīn/ Short for fanzine. A homemade publication, usually reproduced on a photocopier, with limited circulation and often about a specialized or unconventional topic.

Questions about using zines at Duke, donating zines, etc? Contact Us!

Need help traveling to Duke? If you have a specific project in mind, apply for a Mary Lily travel grant! http://bit.ly/marylily

Need a copy of a specific zine? We can do that for you!

How to fold your mini-zine!

1. Fold paper into eighths and flatten back out.
2. Fold in half and cut from fold to 1st crease.
3. Flatten back out, then fold in half lengthwise. Open out the middle section, then fold the pages around to form a booklet.
4. P.S. Use these instructions to make your own zine!

What's a zine?

Try zines– you might like them!

http://library.duke.edu/rubenstein/findingdb/zines/collections/

Cover illustration of reading girls courtesy of Cristy Road