

Our mission is to provide long-term public access to Duke digital research data to support research transparency, reproducibility, and to foster new discoveries.

CURATION SERVICES

Assign Digital Object Identifiers (DOIs)

Transform file formats for longer-term reuse

Check for sensitive or confidential information

Review documentation to optimize reusability

Review file arrangement and file names

Identify potential data or code enhancements

Add links between publications and data

Assign standardized Dublin Core metadata for discovery

Collaborate with depositors to enhance submission

Membership in the Data Curation Network

We can also help you prepare your data for submission to another repository