

Phi Beta Elects Sixteen

Initiation Set
For October 9

Under a ruling that five-semester students on the accelerated program are eligible for membership, Phi Beta Kappa added fourteen Trinity College upperclassmen and two coeds to its rolls in elections Wednesday.

The sixteen newly-elected students, with twenty-three others who became eligible in July, will be initiated into the national honorary scholastic society Monday night, October 9, at University Hall. Dr. W. T. Ladd, professor of art, will be the guest speaker. Secretary James Cannon III disclosed in releasing the list of new members.

Oldest Greek-letter fraternity in the United States, Phi Beta Kappa is perhaps the nation's most widely known honorary society. A scholastic average of 225 quality points for 90 hours (one five semester units) is the current ruling is the requirement.

Pan Hel Sets Rushing Dates For Sororities

Sororities will have the informal rush period with the Greeks on October 1 and 3 for freshmen and independent transfers. Three formal rush parties are slated for the nights of October 25, 26 and 27, and the next day formal bids to membership will be given new girls.

All new girls will be invited to the teas which will be given in the evenings from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. according to Pan Hel resident Bill Gordon.

Hours for the visiting by sorority members will change on October 8 to 4:00 to 6:00 p.m. All visiting will end on October 22 when silent week begins.

Until that time transfers may visit in any sorority girl's room at any time; freshmen may call on the Greeks between 11:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. to be received by sorority girls unless at least two Greeks are represented.

Using the same system of preferential bidding as last year, sororities will be restricted to fifteen freshmen. Unlimited upperclassmen, however, may be asked to join provided the total number of members of the chapter does not exceed sixty.

Women who have chosen choices in preferential order as to the sorority they wish to pledge and the sororities will make a list of girls they wish to bid. These lists are compared by a group of alumnus who represent each Greek letter group, giving the choices of the new girls first consideration.

White Squad Plays Lejeune Tomorrow

Head Football Coach Eddie Cameron announced shortly before the Chronicle went to press this morning that the Duke White Squad, composed of three players who are not making the Penn trip, will have for New River tonight to play the Camp Lejeune Marines tomorrow afternoon.

Smith To Head WSAB

Wild Election Names Coed Cheerleaders

Dot Hyland, Jane Sherrill, Jean Rockey, and Anne Smart were twice confirmed as Duke's coed cheerleading squad last night in what proved to be the oddest election on record for the woman's college.

To frantic tin-can beating, wild song-shouting, a pajama clad student-body was herded into the Auditorium at 10:10, past staring Engineers, to make up the quorum which was lacking at a WSGA assembly scheduled for 6:45 p.m. Results of both ballot-countings which took place during the evening proved only this: one third of the coeds vote as three-thirds do.

Four of the six tired contestants who went through their paces twice will perform on the cheering squad for the remainder of this season. Finalists Eleanor Warren and Betty Smith had come through preliminary tryouts held last Monday, and judged by the cheerleaders and a WSGA committee, Sherrill and Hyland, who were on last year's squad, provided impetus for last week's rally and game cheers.

Lack of a seating arrangement for coeds led to an absence of over 500 votes both last night and on Monday night, when scheduled WSGA class representative elections had to be postponed. President Mary Nicholson, who called the unorthodox meeting to order by beating a dishpan with a shoe-tree, announced class meetings for the purpose of filling the two posts left vacant by Jean Fountain and Dot Rowland, who did not return this fall.

Ruth Duffy defeated Jane Watson as junior class representative to the WSGA; and Mary Jo Terry won over Shirley Cleveringa for the sophomore representative's post. All four candidates had run for the position last spring in regular WSGA elections.

Still unfilled is the corresponding secretary's seat, vacated by Jean Fountain. Announcement as to this position will be made by Nicholson Monday night, in regular WSGA meeting, at which, we feel sure, a quorum will be present.

Coeds Vote On Monday For Union Relief Plan

Approval for action concerning student relief of acute labor shortage in the East campus Union hinges upon the entire student body Monday night.

Anthology Drive Moves To East

Drive for subscriptions for the Duke Anthology, a collection of literary works by Duke graduates and undergraduates of the past twenty years, will begin on East Campus Monday under the direction of Dr. William Blanton, head of the English Department.

Sponsored for one week, September 29 to October 6, the drive is being conducted to insure publication of the anthology, which is now scheduled to appear in print in '45, and 200 subscriptions must be sold. The book, entitled to be published by the Duke Press, will be a $4.00 volume.

Four members of the Presidents' Club have been designated as the committee in charge of carrying out the plan. They are Martha Nicholson, Mary Louise Merritt, Merthel Greenwell, and Dottie Evans.

The idea of student help during the war has been known to American colleges. If Duke coeds decide to go to work, they will join the students of Vassar, Smith, and many other schools.

Social Committee Appoints New Board

Named Tuesday to the WSAB by the University Social Committee, Raymond Smith, chairman, Merthel Greenwell, Carolyn King, and Dick Doyle have assumed supervision of campus recreation and social life for the coming semester, finding themselves faced at the outset with a new crop of social problems accumulated over the summer.

The Board at its first meeting next Tuesday will approve the plans for the next month. The WSAB allocates dates, certifies arrangements and offers suggestions for the coming semester.

An all-social policy is adopted by the University Social Committee, which this semester for the first time will include representatives of the Nursing School, including Dean Pinkerton, the nurses' SGA president and the chairman of the nurses' Social Committee. Committee members emphasize that the board is strictly an administrative body carrying out the policies dictated by the Social Committee.

Among the regulations enforced by the WSAB are decoration restrictions, fire, insurance and OPA rulings. Decisions will be based on the principle of simplicity and places a $15 limit on expenses for each dance. All decorations must be handled without the use of any university labor or materials, and any electric work must be done by electricians appointed by W. A. Tyree, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds on East campus.

The WSAB has prepared a list of necessary arrangements which must be taken care of before any dance will be approved, and all persons planning a dance are advised to obtain the list. All dance petitions must be turned in by the Tuesday before the dance date to Dean Manchester, advisor to the board, or Smith.

Petitions will begin the plan, if adopted, by being the first shift to serve in the Union. Hours in this work will count for COG credit, and money earned will be given to a charity to be selected by the students, possibly the Red Cross.

Alumni and second semester Freshmen who prepared courses of study on Tuesday evening, September 26, will report to Room 113, Biology Building, on Wednesday evening, October 4, according to the schedule below:

(1) All students who entered college for the first time during the summer, since the end of the fall term in 1943.

(2) All students who entered college for the first time on March 1, 1944, report at 7:30 p.m.

(3) Elections will take place Thursday, October 12. Candidates for Publications Board must follow the same procedure, submitting petitions with fifty names.

Specifications for eligibility are that candidates must have had a C average in the preceding semester and must have completed three semesters if applying for SGA presidency or Publications Board or two semesters for other positions.

New officers and members of the cabinet were installed last night, and yesterday afternoon the first board of directors' meeting was held with newly elected members.

Senator Connally Will Discuss Foreign Policy In Address Here

Texas Democrat Opens Lectures Friday, October 6

Senator Tom Connally, Texas Democrat and chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, will open the 1944-45 University Lecture Series with an address in Page Auditorium next Friday night, October 6, at 8 p.m.

Connally is the first of a number of prominent national figures to occupy the university before performing during the coming year. Originally scheduled for an appearance here in late spring, he notified Lecture Chairman Robert S. Rankin by wire yesterday of his decision to fulfill the spring engagement next week.

"American Foreign Relations" is slated to be the subject of the senator's address, which is expected to be particularly significant because of his influential position in determining U. S. foreign policy. As chief congressional spokesman on foreign affairs, Sen. Connally is frequently consulted by the President, Ranking Member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and Secretary of State Hull and is fully informed by them of all leading foreign policy developments.

The weight of his influence will be even more in evidence in the event that Democratic senators in the Senate after next month's election, all three entered into negotiations with the president over the status of his committee.

Connally's name is associated with two of the most prominent legislative resolutions of the current Congress. He is author of the Smith-Connally Resolution which provides for the extension of the Smith-Connally Act, which restricts labor's activities in wartime.

$8030 Duke Quota Set In War Fund Campaign

University War Fund Campaign, opening two weeks ahead of schedule to avoid conflict with examinations, is now organized and has opened the drive to meet the $8,030 quota by October 7.

Headed by Dr. C. G. Bookhout, the Duke division has divided several different units to include all students on both campuses.

The Navy V-12 Division, chairman, is Major John Marion and NROTC's, is under the direction of Lt. A. K. Davis. Contributions will be made through company commanders and their platoon leaders. No pledging is required. Navy students are to make their contributions by cash between now and October 6, pay day, which will be the final day of the drive for V-12.

Former Senator, William Brinkley, acting through the freshman and senior "Y" cabinet, will direct the civilian division of West campus. Civilian contributors can make their donations through the floor chairmen of their own dormitories.

Entered by both the President of the United States and the Secretary of the Navy, the United National War Fund combines the fund campaign of all wartime relief agencies under one general organization. Fifty-three percent of the money raised goes to the U.S.O., United Service Organizations, War Prisoners Aid, Inc. and Allied Nations Relief and Refugee Aid, the rest going to local agencies. However, if the contributor wishes, he may designate any one or any combination of the organizations to receive his entire donation.

The Woman's College division, under the direction of Mary Louise Merritt, will also make donations through dormitory floor chairmen, acting under COGS.

The Army Medical School and the Divinity School divisions are supervised by Major George Mathews, Jr. and Harley M. Williams respectively, and faculty members will make donations through the chairmen of their own departments.

YMCA Voting Reported Light As McCown Wins Presidency

Wally McCown, N.R.O.T.C., emerged victor in Monday's YMCA presidential election and was installed last night with the officers and members of the new cabinet.

In very light voting members of the university Y organization gave Ben Massey the nod over Frank Crane for vice-president, and placed Norman Garrett as secretary and Jack Ellis as treasurer. The only changes for their respective positions.

McCown, who had a decided edge in the balloting over Ray Jordan, immediately named members of his new cabinet. They are Bob Willoughby, chaplain; John Sutton, campus service; Bob Wiles, sophomore representative; Bob Ross, sophomore; Myron Gatling, freshman; Frank Bliss, social chairman; Mac Cameron and Gil Adams, Edgemont; John Borthen, president of the freshmen Y council; John Vogel and Allen Gandy, Dux '45; Louis Duce, '46 Dux; Louis Branscomb, ex-officio.

New officers and members of the cabinet were installed last night, and yesterday afternoon the first board of directors' meeting was held with newly elected members.

"The Y is planning a well-organized Freshmen Week so that students coming in from other schools and from the military adjust themselves quickly to our wartime schedule," said McCown. "Under the sponsorship of the Y, the Duke's Dux club will hold a dance early next semester in order to improve dating on East and to enable the incoming freshman boys to meet Duke girls.
