I voluntarily agree to participate in the _____ Interview on _____, for the David M. Rubenstein Rare Book & Manuscript Library, Duke University (the Library).

I acknowledge that the Library acquires oral history interviews with the intent of making them available to users for an ongoing or indefinite period of time. I understand that to accomplish this, the following items may be created from my interviews:

- reformatted copies of the recording that meet changing technological and archival standards
- an edited transcript and summary
- a photograph of me from the interview
- copies of any personal documents or additional photos I wish to share during the interview

Copyright and Licensing

Copyrights and rights of reproduction in and to these materials will be governed by United States copyright law. The Participant may transfer the copyrights to the Library, or the Participant may retain the copyrights:

(CHECK ONE)

- I hereby transfer this work to the public domain. I fully understand that this interview will not be copyrighted by the Library, but will be immediately placed in the public domain. This decision is intended to provide maximum usage by future researchers.
- I hereby transfer copyright to the Library, which grants me a non-exclusive license for the complete and unrestricted right to reproduce, publish, broadcast, transmit, perform or adapt the interview.
- I retain the copyright to this interview and grant a non-exclusive license to the Library, for distribution to the public for non-commercial, educational purposes. The Library may direct patrons requesting publication to use the interview for commercial purposes or purposes not allowed under Fair Use (Section 107, Title 17, U.S. Copyright Code), to the following address:
